Human Safety Testing

Human Safety Testing

We follow you through the approval of new active substance or the registration of your biocidal product according to EU and international guidelines delivering a complete range of GLP compliant tests.

Testing Services for Biocides

Our expertise in the biocides complex regulatory framework dates back to the nineties, at the time when the Biocidal Products Directive was introduced. Since then, Eurofins has been pivotal to the success of many companies facing the challenge of registering different product types according to the BPD first and to the Biocidal Products Regulation after 2012 (Regulation (EU) No. 528/2012).

Our team will support you through the entire process of a successful registration of your active Biocidal Active Substances or finished formulations. Together with you personnel, our scientists will be working out the optimal testing strategy for the evaluation of safety and efficacy of your product. Our consultancy team will support you in all the stages of the regulatory process, from the Pre-registration analysis to the Dossier submission, ensuring a smooth delivery.
