

Raw Materials Express is Lancaster Laboratories' new innovative testing service

LANCASTER, Pennsylvania (October 2, 2008) – Lancaster Laboratories Inc. has launched an innovative Raw Materials Express Testing Program, offering more timely solutions for the pharmaceutical industry's drug development processes. At no extra cost and in half the typical delivery time, Lancaster Laboratories streamlines Raw Materials testing expressly for certain routine USP tests. Results are available in five days when compendia methodology and non-customized documentation formats apply. Lancaster Laboratories has ranked #1 Laboratory of Choice in Pharmaceutical Technology surveys consecutively since 1996 based on scientific and regulatory expertise, meeting project deadlines, customer service and price. And the company's Raw Materials Express program further enhances customer's service experience. Lancaster Laboratories is one of the world's largest commercial testing laboratories, providing innovative scientific solutions to large and small molecule customers worldwide. Lancaster Laboratories Europe/Microchem in Ireland further broadens global customer service options.