

Professional Consulting Services

Our consulting expertise in the field of medical devices, pharmaceuticals and chemicals allows us to support you from the very beginning and throughout the complete development of your product. Beside providing you with expert statements and conducting risk assessments we also support you with the planning of your test strategy which allows you to take advantage of time and costs more effectively and thus achieve the best possible results. Through our consultancy capabilities by individual experts, you minimize your risks in product development and can bring your products to market faster and more efficiently.

We are also happy to train your employees at the Eurofins Training Academy. Regardless of whether you would like to attend a workshop at your own facility or rather a seminar in our seminar rooms at Eurofins PSS Consulting in Munich, we will provide you with our extensive know-how.

Why Choose Eurofins PSS Consulting Munich?

- With more than 30 years of experience in the field safety testing for biopharmaceuticals, medical devices and chemicals our expert team provides you with the technical advice to ensure the success of your product development.
- Choosing Eurofins PSS Consulting Munich, you will profit from our entire network of scientists and experts who will help you with advice and action.
