

Sharing knowledge through training

As a global provider of testing, advising and assuring services, develop your business with our expertise in the Food and Drink Industry with a training course designed to meet your needs.

In today's food product market, reputations which have taken years to build can be so easily damaged by one-off events.

Such risks can be averted by sharing our knowledge through well established practical courses for the food industry.

Choose from an informal session or a certified course including a structured examination process.

Our highly qualified experts with many years of practical industry experience deliver essential programmes such as Food Law, HACCP and Internal Auditing.

Our bespoke courses, run at a venue to suit you, offer a flexible way of training, specific to your needs.

By making you fully aware of all legal requirements, we keep you compliant and better prepared for any potential issue.

We also provide training covering food microbiology and chemistry analytical testing from introduction to analytical techniques through to more complex methods including risk assessments to meet surveillance or due diligence testing programmes.

Food Advisory

- Food Information to Consumers Regulation
- Basic Food Labelling
- Advanced Food Labelling
- Nutrition and Health Claims Briefing
- Food Labelling for Marketeers
- Effective Management of Enforcement Challenges
- Food Fraud

Testing

- Food Microbiology for Non Microbiologists
- Food Nutritional Chemistry
- Pesticide Residues in Food

Food Technical

BRC Academy training courses including: Global Standard for Food, Packaging & Packaging Materials, Agents & Brokers, Storage & Distribution and Internal Auditor.

Speak to one of our experts today who will be happy to explain how we can support you in your training requirements.

Training Calendar

Visit www.eurofins.co.uk/training for more information and dates of our training courses.

